

following resolution:

Resolved, That the ordinance just read, entitled, "an ordinance to amend sec. 2 of ordinance No. 23, entitled, "an ordinance relative to depositing and burning sawdust and other refuse stuff," be put upon its second reading forthwith. Adopted by the following vote:

Yeas—Trustees Smyth, Blake, Robinson, Humphrey, McArthur and Van Arsdale, 6.
Nays—none.
The ordinance was then read by section, and then was adopted by the following vote:

Yeas—Trustees Blake, Robinson, McArthur, Humphrey, Smyth and Van Arsdale, 6.
Nays—none.
On motion the Village Attorney was directed to draft proper resolutions to proceed toward the proper construction of a sewer on Locust street.

Moved and supported that the sum of $100 be transferred from the general fund placed to the credit of Locust street sewer fund. Carried.
Council then adjourned.

C. J. HUNT, Clerk.

THE NORTHERN TRIBUNE'S CORRESPONDENCE.

PIGEON RIVER

December 5th, 1883.

Did you hear the news? Mr. Hungerford sawed a board with his new saw mill, but the dam gave way and he will saw no more boards until it is fixed. He says he can saw 2000 feet per day, and when in running order the mill will be quite an addition to our town.

Old Antoine Mixime, the Indian trapper, whose "better half" recently left him for the happy hunting grounds, does not seem to be depressed by grief, any way he killed 8 deer last week. And still the sportsmen who come here complain of scarcity of game.

Moses Miller killed two fine deer Saturday.

Moses Pasino returned from Cheboygan last week and reports that burg as wicked as ever.

Messrs. Leavit, Vorca and Cummings were here last week looking at some timber belonging to Mr. Leavit.

Tally a deer for Phil Richards.

Will Helmes is in Cheboygan.

The lawful time for shooting deer has expired and now if "ye granger" should chance to kill a deer he wont brag about it but will hide it away and, keep mum.

Sam Sponsler brings suit against Mr. Roney this week for entering his house while he (Sponsler) was absent and taking various articles, at least Sam says he did. Justice Pasino will decide the matter for them. MORE ANON.

WOLVERINE, Dec. 4, 1883.

THEY SAY

That Wolverine is to be a good town. But this is not authentic by any means. That Johnnie Brook will soon move in his new residence.

That the three stores in this village are doing a good trade.

That sabbath school of this village will have a Christmas tree that will surprise the oldest inhabitant.

That the "little agent" is mashed on any kind of a "sand bug."

That Mrs Hodge has been quite ill but is now some better.

That this would be a good point for a barber to earn his living by the sweat of his brow.

That George Hancock is the only party shipping potatoes from this station this season.

That the McLochlin Bros. of Five Lakes will soon have a hard wood lumber mill in running order here.

That the three other mills at this station are doing a starving business.

That we have two black-smith shops and that there is not work enough here to support one.

That the last pie social held at the residence of Mr. Cooper, on Friday evening last, for the benefit of the Sabbath school was a success financially.

That no blood was lost between Smith and Dodge, but that Jim was a very short time measuring the distance between the station and his residence.

That the citizens feel better now that they have an agent at their station.

That Bony sings, "I would not live always," with an energy that would rout a book agent or a prize package man.

That if we live another week we will write again.

Yours Truly,

SLIVER.

ALLIS, Dec. 5, '83.

Messrs. Dolph and Clements, of Indian River, have been boarding at the post-office and hunting deer for the past ten days with but little success. In fact there are, or have been, fifteen camps of hunters in this vicinity, averaging 8 to the camp, and all the hunters from various parts of this state and Ohio, are loud in their laudations of this new country and we expect many of them here for actual settlers.

The stage brought in Mr. Clothier, of Detroit, and Mr. Wetmore, of New York, Saturday, en route for Rogers.
